25-Word Summary of Project:

General advice to all applicants: The NEH SS funds research for publication near completion, so proposals related to pedagogy, service, or conferences are not typically competitive. It is very important to know the NEH SS requirements and be specific in your proposal about why this particular grant is appropriate to the details of your project in its current stage. Be precise about what portion of the project is completed, what remains to be done, and what your proposed research activities will be.
